PROMINENT candidates for the Senate PROMINENT candidates for the Senate in West Virginia: Frank Hereford, present incumbent; H. M. Matthews, Governor of the State; and J. N. Camden, Vice-President of the Standard Oil Company and "King" of the West Virginia petroleum interest. Chances are in favor of the oil-man, who has a "bar'l."—Chicago Tribune.

We agree with the Tribune that the chances are in favor of Mr. Camden, and mainly, as a matter of truth, because he has a "bar'l." The "bar'l" played its part in the selection and election of members of the Legislature-how direct a part we should not like to guess-but it is a matter of common fame that Mr. Camden did not let his friends perish along the campaign highways for lack of sustenance. He will lead all other candidates on the first ballot, and will probably gain more or less soon afterwards, especially if it should appear that he is bound to win at the last. It is not necessasy to speculate as to the direct part that may be played by the "bar'l" upon the members. Suffice it that it probably got in its work prior to the elec tion on enough of them to keep him in the lead as a candidate. The gravitation to wards a "bar'l" in a Senatorial contest is so well known that the fact does not need to be descanted upon as a matter for argu ment. We are persuaded that the "bulge is on the side of Mr. Camden's "bar'l" at this writing. There may be, and doubtelss will be, a competitive "bar'l" opened when the Legislature meets, and when "bar'l" meets "bar'l" then comes the tug of war. The Camden men are not sinners above all who dwell in Jerusalem by a large majority. There are one or two of his rivals who would be as willing to buy their election by opening their kegs as his friends can possibly be by opening his "bar"i." If they refrain from compe#### tition in this line it will only be because they cannot size up satisfactorily. FAMILY REUNION.

A Numerous Connection Gather Around the Old Hearthstone and Have a Good

On Friday, December 31st, at the residence of Mr. William Rodgers, near Wes Alexauder, there was a reunion of the brothers and sisters and intimate friends of the family. The day was bright and clear, the weather having moderated some what from the extreme cold of a few days before, and the sleighing excellent. About 10 o'clock A. M. the jingling of the sleighbells began to announce the arrival of the guests, and the merry laughter of the occupants of the sleighs betokened "that all guests, and the merry laughter of the occupants of the sleighs betokened "that all went merry as a marriage bell," Among the invited guests were Mr. George Lewis and wife, parents of Mrs. Bedgers, James Redgers and wife, John Rodgers and wife, John Layres and wife, James McCammon and wife, al' of Potomac; William Lewis

Andy Yates and wife, of McGraw's Run.
B. L. Rodgers and wife, of McGraw's Run.
B. L. Rodgers and wife, of West Liberty; and Miss Jennie Rodgers, of Potomac.
After the guests had all assembled and spent an hour or two in friendly greetings and social intercourse with each other, the door of the dining-room was thrown open and presented a sight well calculated to gladden the heart of man, and woman too. The table fairly grouned under the weight of both delicacles and substantials. The hostess has the reputation of being an excellent cook, but she fairly outdid herself on this occasion in trying to tempt the appetite of her friends, and, of course, all tried to do ample justice. The company was entertained during the day with choice music on the orgaw by Mrs. Dr. Wood, accompanied by Messrs. W. and M. Lewis, violinists.
Just before separation the host gave s short speech of welcome, after which Jas.
McCammon, in reviewing the pastbrought to mind a similar gathering elfriends, wenty or twenty-five years ago,

All would not meet again under the same circumstances, but that one or more would tremstances, but that one or more would be missing. He then addressed the Throne of Grace in behalf of present friends, not forgetting to ask the blessing of God upon absent friends, especially the brother who was lying upon a sick bed at a distance.

Taking it all in all it was a day pleasantly spent, and will long be remembered by those present. If not permitted to meet sgain on another such occasion, may we have a grand reunion in the "sweet by and by" with loved ones who have gone before, "where fears of parting chill never, no never.

"For several years I have had Torpid Liver. A year ago I tried, as an experiment, Tutk's Pills, and was surprised to find that they accomplished all the results of Calomel without any of its bad effects. I was always an unbeliever in Patent Medicines, but am now convinced that there is some good in Nasareth." E. H. Gray, Augusta, Ga.

Guilly of Wrong

Some people have a fashion of confusing excellent remedies with the large mass of "patent medicines," and in this they are guilty of a wrong. There are some advertised remedies fully worth all that is asked for them, and one at least we know of—Hop Bitters. The writer has had occasion to use the Bitters in just such a climate as we have most of the year in Bay city, and has always found them to be first-class and reliable, doing all that is claimed for them.—Tribune.
